HIGH SPEED JUICER VS THE VITAPRO LOW SPEED JUICER

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN HIGH SPEED JUICING AND THE VITAPRO?

Traditional High Speed Juicer

Traditional juicers utilize a fast-spinning metal blade that spins against a mesh filter, separating juice from flesh via centrifugal force. The problem with high speed juicers is that they generate heat which destroys some of the enzymes in the fruits and vegetables. The heat also oxidizes the nutrients, rendering less nutritious juice than the VitaPro.

VitaPro Cold Press Low Speed Juicers

This innovative technology extracts juice by first crushing and then pressing fruit and vegetables for the highest juice yield. Because it doesn't produce as much heat, it keeps more of the fresh nutrients intact. The VitaPro uses low speed which actually produces thicker, richer juice as quickly as traditional juicers. There are no metal blades resulting in a greater yield and richer juice. Prepare to be delighted with the VitaPro.

COMPARISON

	Traditional High Speed Juicer	Vita Pro Low Speed Juicer
Juice Output	No advantage	High output with richer juice and more nutrients
Nutrient Retention	Not great. High-speed spinning creates heat which breaks down the nutrients	Excellent. Produces no heat, thus retaining more nutrients.
Ability To Process Leafy Greens?	Not efficient. Very little juice is able to be extracted from greens.	Excellent. Great for fans of kale, wheat grass, leafy greens and herbs.
Ability To Process Nuts?	No	Yes – terrific for making your favourite almond or cashew milks
Noise Level	Noisy, similar to a blender	Very quiet – you can hear the TV while juicing
Effort Required	Must push food through the juicer	Simple. Food is pulled through once loaded
Pulp Yield After Juicing	Some wet pulp	Pulp amount is much dryer = more juice & nutrients
